VOL. LI October, 1952 No. 5

Published quarterly by Maryville College. Entered May 24, 1904, at Maryville, Tennessee, as second-class mail matter. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1947, authorized February 10, 1919.

CARL McKINLEY STOREY, PRESIDENT OF THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

After graduation in 1931, Mr. Storey took a position with Proffitt's Department Store in Maryville, and was there from 1931 to 1944 as a department manager. From 1944 to 1946, for a period of two and a half years, he was employed by the Atomic Energy Commission at Oak Ridge, where he was shift supervisor in the chemical division. Since 1946, he has been a department manager with McArthur's Department Store, in Maryville. His wife, Anna Rowe Templin, graduated in 1929. They have two children, Linda, ten, and Susan, six.

GREETINGS TO MARYVILLE COLLEGE ALUMNI EVERYWHERE:

It is with pleasure that I serve as your president during this year. The officers and committees of the Association held their first meeting on September 9th. Plans were made for the Homecoming and the publishing of this issue of the Bulletin. As you already know from a letter which went out earlier, Homecoming is set for Saturday, November 1st. It is hoped that ground will be broken for the new Samuel Tyndale Wilson Chapel on that date. Details for the Homecoming activities are listed elsewhere. I do want to urge all who possibly can to attend the Homecoming event.

While for the second year the enrollment on the hill is below the usual 800, yet the spirit on the campus and in the town appears to me to be excellent. For one thing the football team has started better than it has for a couple of years. We old football players especially like that. As this Bulletin goes to press, the Highlanders have already won their opening game 39-0 over Hiwassee, and have played the strong State College from Jacksonville, Alabama, I can assure you there will be more pep and enthusiasm at Homecoming this year than there was last.

Local alumni and friends of the College are really displaying a new brand of interest and enthusiasm this fall. We hope you all catch the spirit. I think before the year is over you will see some definite goals accomplished through the efforts of alumni. Local alumni and businessmen put on a banquet for the entire football squad, coaches and other College personnel before the opening game. We feel is was a very successful occasion. Other meetings with President Lloyd and faculty members have produced favorable results. We hope to furnish you with further information during the year about definite accomplishments worked out with the College. At present, I can say there is a feeling of mutual cooperation between the College and its alumni. We are working together in trying to erect a score board on the football field, make plans to dedicate the new field, and secure band uniforms.

Now the important thing is our Alumni Association doesn't have much money. From those of you who are out of town, we need your financial support. How about sitting down and writing out a check for at least $2.00 to your Alumni Association. That covers your dues for one year, then if you are one who failed to mail in your dues last year how about mailing the check for $4.00. Surely Maryville College means that much to you. Make the check to Maryville College Alumni Association, Maryville College, Maryville, Tennessee.

I am looking forward to seeing many of you at Homecoming on November 1st. I appreciate the suggestions sent in from many of you and hope more of you will write me during the year. I shall do all I can for the best interest of Maryville College.

Sincerely,

Carl M. Storey

President of Alumni Association

1. The college year of 1952–1953 opened on September 2 and is now well under way. The First Semester will close on December 19. The Second Semester will open on January 14, 1953, and close on May 20. The attention of alumni should be called especially to two dates during the year—Saturday, November 1, which is Homecoming and Founders Day, and Saturday, May 16, which is Alumni Day with the specified class reunions and the annual Alumni Dinner and Meeting.

2. The enrolment for the First Semester is 676, compared to 695 in 1951, and 828 in 1950. The new freshmen number 223 (113 women and 110 men), which is 16 per cent more than entered a year ago, but approximately 20 per cent under the 300 which we have come to count "normal" for us. There are 20 fewer women freshmen than last year but 51 more men freshmen. The senior class this year represents the last of the postwar "inflation" and has 21 fewer than the senior class of last year. It numbers 131, which is about normal for the enrolment of 800 which we maintained before the war and still desire to maintain. But the sophomore (176) and junior (129) classes are abnormally small. The smaller enrolment is not especially noticeable to an observer on the campus. But it will be noticeable in the year's finances. While in the aggregate each student always costs the College a good deal more than he pays, yet it costs almost as much to operate the College for 676 students as for 800 students. And 800 students pay approximately $30,000 more for tuition and nearly $45,000 more for room and board than do 676. We closed the last year with a small deficit; it is obvious that, unless we find some additional current gifts this year, the President and Directors have something to worry about. And I repeat my appeal of last spring to alumni to commend Maryville College more than ever to qualified young people who will be ready for college next year (or the Second Semester of this year).

We shall be increasing our recruiting activity at the College. So much of the time in the past we have had more applicants than we could take that this is a rather new situation for us. The falling-off in liberal arts colleges is general, due in varying degrees to smaller high school classes (due in turn to reduced birth rates in the depression years), to a trend toward technical and professional courses, to the aggressiveness and resources of tax-supported universities and colleges, to high paying jobs available to high school graduates, and to the abnormal attendance during the war and after the war when the veterans flocked to college. New veterans are just beginning to enter college (we have about 30), and high school classes will begin to grow next year.

3. We plan to break ground for the Chapel on Saturday morning, November 1, which is Founders and Homecoming Day. The ceremony will be part of the Founders Day Exercises, which are described on another page of this Bulletin. The architects are aiming to have the working drawings completed in time to get contractors' bids into our hands long enough before November 1 to permit a decision as to a contract. There are, of course, two contingencies which might prevent our breaking ground as planned: (1) failure of the architects or contractors to meet this time schedule; (2) discovery that all bids are so much larger than our present estimates and our funds that we cannot award a contract without revision of the plan. But we are proceeding on the assumption that we will break ground on November 1.

4. The Fall Meeting of the Directors will be held on October 31 and November 1. Members of the Board will participate in the Founders Day Exercises and the ground breaking. It promises to be a largely attended meeting, at which the present and future program of the College will be considered. The names of the Directors are printed each year in the catalog, but because a majority of the alumni do not see the catalog and because the personnel of the Directors changes some each year, we are printing on another page of this Bulletin the names and addresses of the thirty-five persons now serving as Directors (there is one vacancy). We have lost two Directors by death during the past year—Rev. Dr. Joseph M. Broady and Rev. Chester Fred Leonard. Two new Directors were elected in June, 1952—Rev. Dr. Joseph J. Copeland, new Pastor of Second Presbyterian Church, Knoxville; and Rev. Dr. George H. Vick, '33, Pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Charleston, West Virginia. One third of the Directors are elected each year for a term of three years by the Synod of Mid-South of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. The Board of Directors is the controlling body of the College and is the legal corporation.

May I extend cordial greetings to Maryville College alumni everywhere and ask them to keep their Alma Mater in their thoughts, plans, and prayers.

Sincerely yours,

Ralph Waldo Lloyd

NOTE:
Since this letter and the articles in the Bulletin were written, it has become apparent that the chapel plans will not be finished in time to break ground on Founders Day. However, the service with the theme announced will be held in preparation for the breaking of ground later in the year.

FOUNDERS DAY PROGRAM—NOVEMBER 1

Saturday, November 1 is the 1952 Founders and Homecoming Day.

The Founders Day program will be in connection with the daily chapel service at 9:45 a.m. (moved from the usual 8:00 a.m. chapel hour).

The general theme will be "The Place of the Chapel on a Christian College Campus." The principal speaker will be the Rev. Dr. Roy Ewing Vale, Pastor of the Tabernacle Presbyterian Church, Indianapolis, Indiana, and a Director of Maryville College for the past thirty-three years. Dr. Vale is an eminent church leader and was Moderator of the 1944 General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. He is a former Pastor of Second Presbyterian Church, Knoxville, Tennessee; of First Presbyterian Church, Oak Park, Illinois; and of Woodward Avenue Presbyterian Church, Detroit, Michigan.

If plans materialize as now projected, the principal event of Founders Day will be the formal breaking of ground for the Samuel Tyndale Wilson Chapel.

The Directors of the College will be in session all day Friday and on Saturday morning. They will participate in the Founders Day events.

HOMECOMING ROYALTY

HOMECOMING PROGRAM—NOVEMBER 1

The annual Homecoming events are in the afternoon and evening of the same day on which the Founders Day events are held in the morning. This year it is Saturday, November 1.

The schedule for the day is found on the inside of the front cover of this issue.

While alumni are welcome to "come home" for the whole day, the two special alumni events are in the late afternoon and evening.

At 6:00 p.m. the annual Homecoming Barbecue will be held on the college baseball field. It will be in charge of the Alumni President, Carl M. Storey, '31, of Maryville. There will be long tables of food (at 50 cents) under the electric lights and by the bonfires; a table at which alumni may pay dues ($2.00 a year); and a table where football tickets may be purchased at the student rate of 75 cents. If it should rain, the Barbecue will move into the Alumni Gymnasium.

The other evening event is the Homecoming football game at 8:00 p.m., on the Maryville College Football Field nearby. This is the third season the new field has been in use. The grass is gradually getting a start, but is still not fully rooted and spread. The use of the field in two rainstorms last year (remember Homecoming?) made it necessary practically to start over this year. The seating capacity of the permanent bleachers is 2,600 (1,100 on the west side where our students and a good many others sit; and 1,500 on the east side, where the reserved seats and the visiting school sections are located). All games, both at home and away, are being broadcast by Station WGAP of Maryville.

The Homecoming game this year is with Georgetown College, a Baptist institution of Georgetown, Kentucky, which fields a strong team in the Kentucky conference each year.

JUST BEFORE THE PARADE

NEW DIRECTORS

Two new Directors of Maryville College were elected in June, 1952, by the Synod of Mid-South, to fill vacancies caused by death.

One is Rev. Dr. George H. Vick, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Charleston, West Virginia, a great church of more than 3,000 communicant members, affiliated with the Presbyterian Church in the US (Southern). Dr. Vick graduated at Maryville College in the Class of 1933, received the B. D. degree from Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary in 1936 and the Th.M. degree in 1937. He was awarded a fellowship at Louisville and spent a year in study at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland. Prior to going to Charleston in 1945, he held pastorates in Owensboro, Kentucky, and St. Joseph, Missouri.

The other new Director is Rev. Dr. Joseph J. Copeland, new Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, Knoxville, Tennessee. The Second Church has a historic relationship to Maryville College, because in the year (1819) that Dr. Isaac Anderson, then Pastor of New Providence Presbyterian Church of Maryville, became the founder and first President of Maryville College, he also began a ten-year service as the first Pastor of Second Church, Knoxville. He continued as Pastor in Maryville until 1857 and merely carried the work at the College and in Knoxville as extras.

Dr. Copeland was called from a pastorate in Denton, Texas, to Knoxville to succeed Rev. Dr. Clifford E. Barbour, another Director of the College, who is now President of Western Theological Seminary, Pittsburgh. Dr. Copeland is a graduate of Trinity University, in Texas, and of McCormick Theological Seminary.

THE CONVOCATION

For many years a formal Convocation (a calling together) has been held, as listed in the schedule, at the regular chapel hour on the first day of classes. At this service a Convocation Address is given by the President. As students and faculty filed out from this year's service they were handed a mimeographed page containing the following summary of President Lloyd's Convocation Address for 1952:

What Seek Ye?

(John 1:38)

The word "seek" is from an Anglo-Saxon word which means to go in search of, to look for, to strive after. The question, "'What seek ye' at college?" is of large importance because what you really search for you are likely to find.

I. Are you seeking a college education?—or just a college degree? The main thing is the education you get, not the degree or the prestige or the higher earning power. It is possible to accumulate enough credits to get a college degree and yet fail to get a college education. Every student should strive for both.

II. Are you seeking Christian culture?—or just vocational training? Both are essentials, but the demands of modern industry and modern war have tended to throw an excessive emphasis on technical and professional training at the expense of Christian culture. Yet the basic need of life is the Christian interpretation, character, and service which make up Christian culture.

III. Are you seeking real friends—or just self interest? The Maryville College campus presents one of the best opportunities of your lifetime to make real friends. But you will miss them if you withdraw into your own shell, or if your conduct is irritating and self-centered, or if you try to use the friendship of others to promote yourself.

IV. Are you seeking serious business at college?—or just a comfortable time? A college course ought to be counted a serious business; it takes 1/20 of your life if you live to be eighty. It offers unlimited possibilities for abundant living in the years ahead if it is taken as a truly serious business.

These familiar and famous words of Jesus state one of the basic laws of life: "Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you; for everyone . . . . that seeketh findeth."

A. A. U. W. WORKSHOP

The Fall Workshop of the Tennessee State Division of the American Association of University Women will be held on the Maryville campus October 3 and 4. This is an annual meeting attended by eighty to one hundred women from Branches throughout the State of Tennessee. Miss Davies, of the music faculty, is chairman this year of the Maryville Branch, the hostess group. The home economics department will serve the Saturday luncheon, and the banquet Saturday night will be in Pearsons Dining Hall.

The College is a corporate member of the Association. Maryville women graduates are eligible for membership in A.A.U.W. and each spring the Maryville Branch holds a reception for the senior women to acquaint them with the organization.

ALUMNI CLUBS

The Maryville College Club of Philadelphia held a banquet at the Chambers-Wylie Church in Philadelphia on May 2. Thirty-eight alumni attended. George L. Hunt, '40, was the main speaker of the evening. All enjoyed, too, the informal greetings of Dr. John Grant Newman, '88, who is now eighty-nine years old and one of the oldest living alumni. George Hunt was elected chairman for 1952-1953 and Mrs. Fred L. Rhody (Mary Chambers, '39) secretary-treasurer. All graduates and former students in the Philadelphia area who are not on the Club's mailing list should contact Mrs. Rhody. Her address is 31 Eighth Avenue, Haddon Heights, New Jersey.

The alumni in the Chicago area met for dinner on April 1. Fifty-nine were present, ranging from the Class of 1907 to the Class of 1952. President Lloyd was present and spoke on recent developments at the College and plans for the future. The following officers were elected: Glen A. Lloyd, '18, chairman; Dewey M. Beck, ex '21, secretary-treasurer; James H. Turner, '18, chairman of a committee to select a name for the club; and Arthur David Ainsworth, former faculty member now studying at the University of Chicago, as membership chairman. Mr. Beck's address is Illinois Bankers Association, 105 West Monroe Street, Chicago 3, Illinois.

The National Capital Club held a picnic in Rock Creek Park, Washington, on Saturday, June 21. William C. Crow, '24, is chairman of the Club. Any alumnus living in the Washington-Baltimore area who did not receive a notice of the picnic should send his name and address to the secretary, Mrs. Herbert P. Dunning (Helen Gamble, '20), 303 East Melbourne Avenue, Silver Springs, Maryland, in order to receive notices of future activities.

The Ohio Valley Maryville College Club on Saturday, August 16, held a picnic at the home of Charles L. Edgemon, '19, the retiring chairman. About thirty attended. President Lloyd, who was to preach at the Mt. Auburn Church the next morning, was present and gave a report on the College. Ruth Meineke, '44, was elected chairman for 1952-1953. Her address is 6428 Glade Avenue, Cincinnati, Ohio.

The annual Maryville College Breakfast at General Assembly, in New York last May, was well attended. Forty-three persons were present, including alumni, honorary alumni, Directors, and friends of the College. The next General Assembly is to meet in Minneapolis, and the Breakfast will probably be held on Saturday, May 30.

FACULTY NEWS

Four members of the faculty went abroad this summer. Mrs. Pieper (Sociology) and Miss Walker (Economics) traveled widely in Europe, visiting France, Italy, Greece, Switzerland, Germany, and England. Miss Guss (Greek and Latin) and Miss Rodemann (German and Education) traveled and attended summer schools—Miss Guss at the American School of Classical Studies in Athens, Greece, for which she had a fellowship, and Miss Rodemann at Mayrhofen, Austria.

This national study is being sponsored by the Commissions on Christian Higher Education of the Association of American Colleges and National Council of Churches.

Dr. McClelland attended a conference in Nashville on regulations for the certification of teachers by the State of Tennessee. Miss Grierson attended a meeting of the American Library Association in New York. Several of the faculty attended or taught in church conferences.

Many of the faculty traveled—to California, Oregon, Canada, New England, Florida, in fact to almost every State in the Union.

The School Musician magazine has been running a series on "Eminent Ladies of School Music" and Miss Crews was the "eminent lady" in last December's issue.

Mr. Bushing continues on leave for graduate study at the University of Tennessee but is this year handling the editorial supervision of the Special Studies program.

Mr. Cooper has been granted a year's leave of absence to teach at the University of Tennessee.

Mr. Dashiell is continuing his graduate study at the State University of Iowa, Iowa City.

Mr. Kolter is teaching at the University of Georgia. Miss Owen is working for the Provident Life and Accident Insurance Company in Chattanooga. Mrs. Currie is at her home in Ohio, helping her son and his family move into a new home this fall.

Miss Cowdrick, who taught French at Maryville from 1939 to 1948, and her mother are now living in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

THE 133RD COMENCEMENT

The 1952 Commencement season began with the first of two presentations of "Macbeth" on Friday, May 16. Saturday, the 17th, was Alumni Day, with the Senior Class Chapel Service in the morning, reunion class luncheons at noon, and the annual Alumni Dinner in the evening.

On Sunday morning, the Baccalaureate Service was held, with the New Providence Presbyterian Church joining with the College at Alumni Gymnasium, the sermon by President Ralph W. Lloyd being on the theme, "The Onward Look."

The Commencement Vespers sermon was by Rev. Dr. Harold Gordon Harold, '27.

Other usual events followed on Monday and Tuesday. At the Graduation Exercises on Wednesday, May 21, last minute word brought news that the plane of Dr. Henry Smith Leiper, the speaker, was grounded, and that he would not arrive. President Lloyd spoke extemporaneously in his place on the subject "Questions Asked After Graduation." This was an unprecedented situation at Maryville.

The graduates in the Class of 1952 numbered 157, of whom 11 completed their work at mid-year, 139 at Commencement, and 7 during this summer.

Honorary Degrees

Three honorary degrees were conferred.

Doctor of Science upon Vincent Talbott Shipley, M. D., a graduate of Maryville College in the Class of 1912, and now a prominent physician of Philadelphia. Dr. Shipley holds the degree of M. D. from the University of Pennsylvania Medical School and that of Master of Medical Science from the Graduate School of the University of Pennsylvania. He has practiced medicine for thirty years in Philadelphia, where he is on the staffs of Presbyterian Hospital and Stetson Hospital. For twenty-three years he served also on the faculty of the Graduate School of the University of Pennsylvania. In 1935, he became a Fellow of the American College of Surgery. He is Medical Director of the Presbyterian Minister's Fund.

Doctor of Divinity upon Harold Gordon Harold, Ph.D., a graduate of Maryville College in the Class of '27, and now Pastor of the Bellefield Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh. Dr. Harold is a graduate of Princeton Theological Seminary, and holds the Ph.D. degree from the University of Edinburgh, Scotland. He has held three pastorates—in Mt. Holly and Newark, New Jersey, and in Pittsburgh, where he has been since 1948. Mrs. Harold (Betty Jane Sharp) also is a Maryville College graduate ('29).

Doctor of Laws upon Hardy Liston, prominent Negro educator, President of Johnson C. Smith University, Charlotte, North Carolina. He is a native of South Carolina, holds the degrees of Bachelor of Science and Master of Arts from the University of Chicago, and the honorary degree of Doctor of Pedagogy from the institution of which he is now President.

His career has included service at Kittrel College, Slater State Normal, and Winston Salem College in North Carolina. For twelve years he was Dean of Knoxville (Tennessee) College. In 1943 he became Executive Vice-President and in 1947 President of Johnson C. Smith University. He is Editor of The Quarterly Review of Higher Education Among Negroes, and has filled various important places in higher education and the Church.

The Class of 1902

Fifty-Year Certificates were awarded to the three living members of the Class of 1902. No one of them was able to be present, although all sent greetings.

Helen Elaine Ervin is now Mrs. W. E. Roberts, of Las Vegas, New Mexico. She wrote that she had lived on an isolated ranch for forty years and so had no news to send.

Arthur Holtsinger lives in nearby Dandridge, Tennessee, but because of an illness at Commencement time could not come. He is Clerk and Master of the Chancery Court, Jefferson County.

Mame Stebbins married Richard W. Post, '99, and in September, 1902, they sailed to Siam as missionaries. They lived and worked there, most of the time in Petchaburi, until World War II. They spent six months in the internment camp in Bangkok before being repatriated in 1942. Mr. Post died in 1947. Mrs. Post lives in Grandview, Tennesee, but her health prevented her from coming to Commencement.

PROFESSOR KIGER RETIRES

At the 1952 Commencement last May, it was announced that John Herbert Kiger, Assistant Professor of History, was retiring from his place on the Maryville College faculty.

Professor Kiger

Professor Kiger graduated at Maryville College with cum laude rank in 1919, and was a member of the Maryville faculty from January, 1924 until May, 1952, a period of twenty-eight and a half years. During the first twelve and a half years he taught Bible; during the past sixteen years he has taught History.

Since his graduation from Maryville College, Mr. Kiger has studied at Bethany College, Oberlin College, Lane Theological Seminary (two years), Duke University, University of North Carolina, and Ohio State University. He holds a master's degree from each of the last two. He taught three and a half years at high schools in Ohio and Tennessee before joining the Maryville faculty.

His long connection with Maryville College has been marked by his careful and extensive academic preparation, his conscientious attention to his work, his loyalty, and his dedication to a life of Christian service.

Mr. and Mrs. Kiger are continuing to make their home in Maryville, where Mrs. Kiger is teaching in the county schools. Their daughter, Sara Jo, '49 (now Mrs. Carl W. Wilson) is in California, and their son, Alan, ex '50, is stationed in Norfolk.

MARYVILLE'S SIXTY-YEAR FOOTBALL RECORD

At the pre-season community-college football dinner on September 15, President Lloyd gave a number of facts from a complete tabulation he has made of Maryville's sixty years of intercollegiate football. He has found written reports of football seasons back to 1898, and has gathered a few verbal and written facts about the seasons between 1892, when the first intercollegiate game was probably played by a Maryville team, and 1898. A picture of that first team, of which Kin Takahashi was coach and captain, was taken about 1893 or 1894 and has been published frequently.

There was no team in 1898 or 1899, but President Lloyd pointed out that beginning with the season of 1900 (with a schedule of two games) Maryville College has played intercollegiate football every year except those of 1901 and three years during World War II (1943, 1944, 1945).

The total number of games played from 1900 through 1951 was 390. Of these Maryville won 199, lost 170, and tied 21.

There have been three seasons in which the team was undefeated in regular season play. In 1903, Maryville won all its 5 games. In 1915, there were 6 wins, no losses, and one tie. In 1946, the first year of football after World War II, Maryville won 9 and lost none in the regular season. This record brought an invitation to play in the "Tangerine Bowl" in Florida, where Maryville lost.

There have been four seasons when only one game was lost (1902, 1921, 1941, 1947). In the first two of these, the loss was to the University of Tennessee.

There have been four seasons when Maryville lost all its games (1900, 1904, 1950, 1951).

Prior to the middle 1930's, Maryville's schedule usually included games with the larger universities of the South, generally considered by the universities as "warm-up" or "breather" games. Often they were just that and resulted in one-sided scores. But occasionally, before the now familiar "big-time football" programs at these universities, Maryville teams won or came near winning.

Here are some further details in the record compiled by President Lloyd: (1) Maryville College played the University of Tennessee 25 times between 1900 and 1936. Of these 25 games Maryville won but two (1903 and 1906), tied one (1924), and lost the others. Some of the losses were by big scores (for example, 41-0 in 1928 and 60-0 in 1932.) But some of the losses were by close scores: in 1910 it was 13-0, in 1918 it was 19-7, in 1921 it was 7-0, in 1926 it was 6-0, and in 1927, it was 7-0 again. (2) There were 20 games with the University of Kentucky between 1907 and 1938. We never succeeded in winning one, although the 1927 game was a tie (6-6), and the score was only 5-2 in 1907, was 12-5 in 1910, was 19-0 in 1917, and was 13-6 in 1925. After the tie in 1927, we lost 40-0 in 1929, and in the most recent game played (1938), the score was 46-7. (3) The record shows three early football games with the University of Alabama (in 1905, 1906, 1907), which Alabama won 17-0, 6-0, and 17-0. (4) Before World War I there were four games with Vanderbilt and there was another in 1929, all lost by one-sided scores. (5) The record shows one game with Georgia Tech (in 1906), with a tie score of 6-6; a game with Mississippi State in 1916 resulted in a tie score of 7-7.

Before World War I Maryville played a rather large proportion of her games each year against these universities, usually for the practice benefit of the universities and some comparative financial benefit for Maryville's small athletic budget, though often with excessive physical damage. In those days fewer small colleges had teams. This continued with Tennessee and Kentucky into the 1930's, even after college teams became more available for competition, and with considerable sustained success on Maryville's part in the 1920's. The development of "big-time football" at these universities has made games with smaller, unsubsidized teams like that at Maryville, something of the past only, but the very prominence of these "big" teams makes the record interesting.

The percentage of wins against liberal arts colleges of comparable size has been overwhelmingly in Maryville's favor. For example, Maryville College has won 18, tied one, and lost only 11 of the 30 games played since 1903 with one of her strongest traditional rivals.

The main values of intercollegiate athletics, however, are not in the win and loss columns. Maryville has won its share of games and it is hoped she can continue to do so, while at the same time she maintains her high academic standards and her no-subsidization policy. It is increasingly hard to win on this basis in a subsidizing athletic world, but the College's policy is controlled by the conviction that the loss of games is less serious than would be the loss of standards and principle.

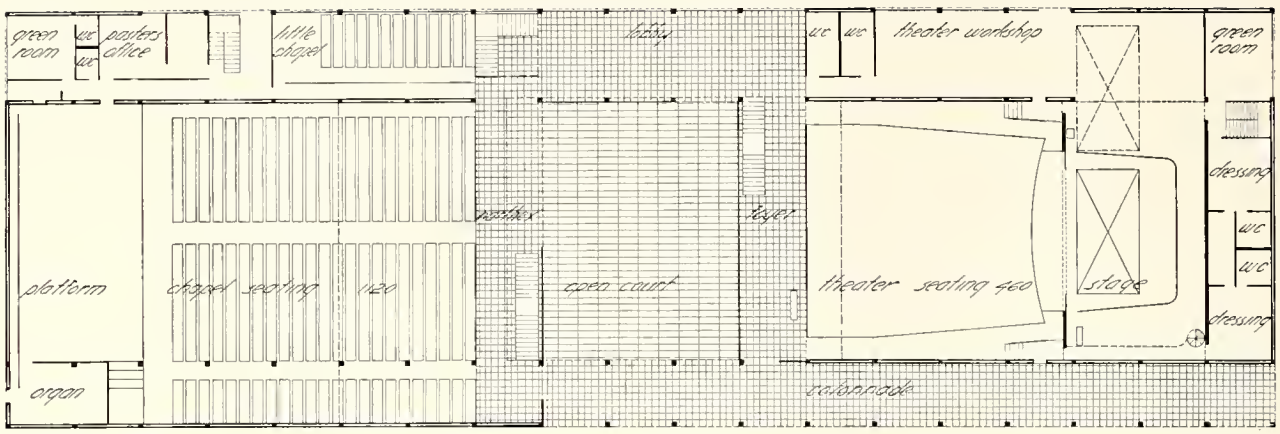
ARTISTS SERIES

Many alumni will recall the Artists Series of 1937-38 and the delightful concert given by the Trapp Family, then on their first American tour. Since then the Trapp Choir has become one of the most popular attractions in the concert world. They have been written up in Reader's Digest, The American Magazine, Time; and many newspapers have carried feature stories about them. They also have made many recordings (some for Victor Red Seal), and they have opened their own summer music camp in Vermont.

The Trapp Family will again appear at Maryville College as the first number on the 1952-53 series, Monday evening, November 17. The second recital on the series will be given January 23 by Luigi Silva, cellist. Mr. Silva, known as "The Pagannini of the Cello," was formerly artist teacher of cello at the Eastman School of Music, but resigned four years ago to devote more of his time to concertizing. He still does some teaching of very advanced students at Juilliard, and at present is engaged in re-editing the entire cello literature for G. Schirmer, music publisher.

Season tickets, including reserved seats, are $3.50, and may be obtained by writing Miss Dorothy Horne, Chairman of the Artist Series Committee, Maryville College.

Floor Plan — First Level



Seating estimated: Chapel main floor 805, balcony 315; Little Chapel 100. Chapel platform is 58 x 30 feet, with estimated seating capacity of 225. Seating of Elizabeth R. Voorhees Chapel was 683 on main floor and 124 in balcony. Size of Voorhees auditorium was approximately 63 x 90 feet; of the new Chapel 74 x 120 feet. The open Colonnade is 165 feet long and 15 feet wide, has reinforced concrete pillars, and is covered by extending the theater roof. The standard theater stage floor has trap doors to storage rooms below. Lines on drawing show two stage wagons and the cyclorama position.

The New Chapel

At this writing the architects are pushing through the working drawings of the Chapel, trying to have them in time to permit the completion of contractors' bids before Founders Day. If this schedule holds, and if there is an acceptable bid, the plan is to hold ground-breaking ceremonies in connection with the Founders Day Exercises.

The April issue of this Bulletin reported that Schweikher and Elting of Chicago and Barber and McMurry of Knoxville had been engaged as Associate Architects. In May, the Directors approved the design and preliminary drawings.

When the Elizabeth R. Voorhees Chapel, erected in 1906, was destroyed by fire on the night of March 26, 1947, efforts began to secure funds and to determine the kind of building needed.

The donors of the Fine Arts Center made possible an undreamed of replacement and expansion of music and art facilities. That left the Chapel and drama and speech facilities to be provided.

The first studies assumed that the new chapel auditorium would be used also for plays, but gradually the conviction grew that there should be separate auditoriums and stages. The present plans are on that basis, although it means considerably more space and some more cost. The first thought was that the new Chapel should have white pillars like those of the old Chapel. But it was soon evident that the stone pillars required for a fireproof building would be very expensive and merely decorative. When the Fine Arts Center was built in contemporary style, it became necessary to take it into account in planning the style of the Chapel. So the conception has evolved into a design which is contemporary, original, simple, appropriate, comprehensive, and economical.

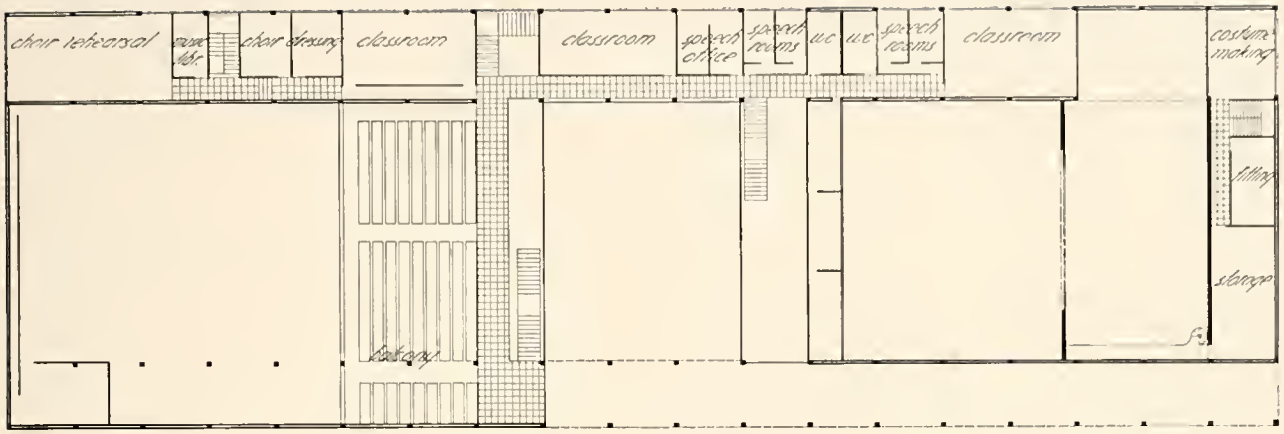
The floor plans of the first and second levels with explanatory designations are reproduced below. There is no basement except under the theater stage area where there are rooms for storage, heating connections, and caretakers' quarters.

The Samuel Tyndale Wilson Chapel is in fact, as the drawings show, an assembly of three buildings linked together around a large center court 60 by 45 feet in size. The entrances are through this center court. The entire length of the three parts is 285 feet (a football field is 300 feet) and the width is 94 feet. Over the theater stage is a standard stagehouse 60 feet high, and beside the open court a 60-foot campanile which eventually will contain a peal of bells.

The materials now contemplated are gray brick, reinforced concrete, steel, aluminum, glass, and a limited amount of wood. The center court will be enclosed on three sides by walls of glass. The stagehouse will be of brick, the campanile of steel.

The location will be the general area of the old Chapel. The building will be set down the hill about 60 feet from the road which runs in front of Anderson and Baldwin Halls, and will extend across the area. The chapel end will be toward Carnegie Hall and the theater end toward the Fine Arts Center. The entrance to the center court will be at about the center of the old Chapel, in line with the walk which runs from Thaw Hall and the Book Store.

Floor Plan — Second Level



Although not indicated on the drawing, a standard stage house approximately 60 x 30 feet in size, designed for overhead handling of scenery, rises 60 feet above the theater stage floor. There is no seating balcony in the theater but there are rear gallery rooms for stage light control and for projection, film storage and rewinding. The center court has no roof. The proposed campanile and carillon is not shown but is designed to stand apart from the building, on the campus side, in line with the chapel narthex.

THE 1953 FEBRUARY MEETINGS

The 77th series of the February Meetings will be held February 4-12, 1953. The leaders will be Rev. Howard Moody Morgan, D.D., of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and the singing will be directed by Rev. Sidney E. Stringham, D.D., of St. Louis,

This will be the fourth time that Dr. Morgan has been the leader (1937, 1941, 1949, 1953). It will be the thirtieth year for Dr. Stringham. He has missed only two years (of which last year was one) since he directed the singing thirty-two years ago.

The morning services will be held in Alumni Gymnasium and the evening services in one of the churches. The Meetings have been held year by year, in times of peace and war, prosperity and depression. Their value continues to be very great.

CHOIR RECORDS

The Choir records, announced in the Bulletin last April, are now on sale at the College Book Store and may be ordered by mail. They are in a very attractive souvenir album; there are three vinylite, non-breakable records, six sides (including the Alma Mater), 78 RPM. The cost is $5.00 per album plus 40c for mailing. Checks should be made payable to the Maryville College Book Store.

Are you aware that the income-tax law was changed in July to increase, from 15 to 20 per cent of an individual's adjusted gross income, the limit for income-tax deductions for individuals for contributions to charitable educational, religious, and other similar organizations? This is applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1951. And it means, of course, that this year, when Maryville so needs gifts for current expenses, for the Chapel, for other improvements, that you can give a higher percentage of your income without paying tax on it.

DR. QUEENER—TWENTY-FIVE YEARS

Verton Madison Queener of the Class of 1924 this fall began his twenty-sixth year as a member of the Maryville College Faculty.

Dr. Queener

He has not actually been on the campus a full twenty-five years since he was on leave of absence for one year (1934)-1935) doing graduate study, and was on leave three years during World War II (1943-1946) at Washington, D. C., engaged in government service. But ever since the fall of 1927 he has been a member of the Faculty. Therefore, he is counted a member of the "Twenty-Five Year Club."

Dr. Queener is a native Tennessean and graduated at Maryville College in 1924. He received the M.A. degree from the University of Tennessee in 1930, and the Ph.D. degree from Indiana University in 1940. He has done graduate study also at the University of Chicago and the University of North Carolina.

For three years after graduation from Maryville College he taught civics and economics in Portsmouth, Ohio, High School. He then joined the Maryville College Faculty and is at present Professor of History and Chairman of the Division of Social Sciences.

During most of his years here he has been the very successful coach of the debating teams and has won national recognition in the forensics field. He has written on various historical subjects, is a popular speaker, and is an active political leader in Tennessee.

INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS

During the fall, the principal intercollegiate athletic program at Maryville College, as at most colleges, continues to be football. But the Cross Country Team also is at work and has matches scheduled with William Jennings Bryan University, University of the South, and Georgia Tech, as well as two practice meets with the University of Tennessee. Later in the fall varsity basketball practice starts, and a few of the early games will be played before the Christmas holidays.

After Christmas, during the winter months, we will have the usual basketball and wrestling team schedules, followed in the spring by intercollegiate baseball, tennis, and track.

In recent years it has been difficult to maintain swimming and track team schedules, due to the fact that few institutions other than the large universities now have swimming or track teams.
